OUR MISSION

Sunday Breakfast Rescue Mission exists to minister in the name of Jesus Christ to the physical and spiritual needs of the homeless and disadvantaged in the Philadelphia area.

Dear Sunday Breakfast Family,

Serving the hungry, homeless, and hurting in Philadelphia is Sunday Breakfast Rescue Mission's daily labor of love and grace since the Mission's founding in 1878. God's call for us to love Him and love our neighbor fuels this work. This year has been no different.

You have given your time, talents, and treasure to this ministry and because of that, lives were changed. In the past year, 15 children, 52 women, and 1,200 men had their spiritual and practical needs met through your support. You are making a difference.

This past year also brought with it organizational change and growth. Our dearly loved leader, Dick McMillen, retired, and after a nationwide search and a lot of prayer, Reverend Jeremy Montgomery joined our Sunday Breakfast family as its next leader.

As we look to the year ahead, "the Good Shepherd" left the 99 to rescue the one. God has given us a big vision to deepen our commitment to provide dignity, holistic support, and Christ-Centered programming by reaching out to rescue those who come to the Mission in need.

In Christ's Service,

James Mumma

Board of Trustee, Chair

"If a man has a hundred sheep and one of them wanders away, what will he do? Won't he leave the ninety-nine others on the hills and go out to search for the one that is lost?"

ONE BY ONE : A LETTER FROM THE CEO

While I am new to Sunday Breakfast, many of you have been part of this Mission for several years. Your partnership has rethread the lives of those who were once hurting and broken. You are giving a voice to people in the margins and are the change-makers for every person we serve.

I am here to join you in serving and loving our city - the City of Brotherly Love. It starts by turning our heart towards those who have been ignored and pushed into the dark alleyways and underpasses. These are the people who need us; these are the people who need God; ultimately, they are God's beloved children.

When we join together and address the complex needs of all who seek our help, our Mission grows stronger. While we still remain independent of government funding, we strive to deepen our partnership with the City of Philadelphia and other service organizations to address the needs of the homeless men, women, and children in our community.

Sunday Breakfast serves as a stepping stone to sustainable living and renewed faith for our guests. Our focus in 2019 is to respect the past, yet to strengthen the foundation of our Mission.

I sincerely appreciate your engagement and support. My promise is to serve our guests with excellence and my vision is to elevate this Mission to be a 21st-Century, 5-star Ministry. It is my prayer that you will join me in serving the hungry, homeless, and hurting in this next year, one person at a time.

With Partnership In Christ,

Rev. Jeremy Montgomery, MBA/MA
President / CEO

"I want to elevate this Mission to be a 21st-Century, 5-star Ministry."

OVERCOMERS

The Overcomer Program is a twelve to eighteen month recovery program available to emergency shelter guests that are seeking a positive life change. SUNDAY B IN THE COMMUNITY

Philadelphia Chef, George Pan and Social Practice Artist, Meei Ling Ng prepare a meal with fresh vegetables grown by Overcomer Joe Thornton.

Farm to Table

In the last few years, Sunday B's urban farm has produced fresh vegetables, fruits, and flowers. The Mission's neighborhood gardener, Meei Ling Ng, has developed an agriculture-education program to train homeless men how to seed, nurture, and harvest fruits and vegetables. The program expanded when Philadelphia Chef George Pan introduced cooking lessons into the Program. During their Capstone project in 2016, the men in the program prepared a 5-course meal using vegetables and herbs grown in the Sunday Breakfast garden, truly bringing the Farm to Table experience full circle. Sunday B's urban farm has engaged local artists, chefs, and community members while providing skills for homeless men to transition into a stable life. For more information regarding the urban farm, please contact us at info@sundaybreakfast.org.
